

This came from John Treloar, a retired mining engineer living in Adelaide. It is more than just amusing, or, as he says it, bad taste. If you had no emissions there would be nothing.

WEATHERILL'S WISH !

